What is Spectrum Works?

Created in 2017, a job fair focused on helping people with autism seek meaningful employment while also drawing awareness to the increasing issue of unemployment within the autistic community.

The job fair has been a direct catalyst in helping hundreds of autistic job seekers to find meaningful employment.

Why the need?

1 in 50

Children are diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder in Canada

Autism is the fastest growing neurodevelopmental diagnosis

83% of autistic adults in Canada report unemployment or underemployment. For those who are employed, the annual mean income is $6,900.00
